7.2.1 Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual

Best practice 1

1. Title of the best practice - Computer literacy to slum dwellers as a social cause.

2. Objectives of the practice

A. Intended outcomes

Computer literacy to minimum 50 students especially from slum area Maharashtra Knowledge Corporation Limited MKCL is promoted by the department of higher and Technical Education of Maharashtra. It was incorporated under the companies act 1956.

MS-CIT Maharashtra state certificate in information technology is its computer literacy course run by MKCL.

MS-CIT is the most popular IT literacy course in Maharashtra.

Intended outcome it's to provide an MSCIT course to slum dwellers as a social cause.

B. Underline principles of this practice -

Computer literacy enables individuals to produce digital content.

Computer literacy enables the individual to interact with every sphere - education, profession, social and research.

3. The context –

A. The contextual features -

Need of ICT in present contact is in every walk of life.

ICT can be achieved through computer literacy, by learning the "basics to advance" computer processing.

MKCL's MS-CIT course is the best course for learners.

The basic to advanced certification course is recognised by the state government.

Computer literacy by the standard MS-CIT (government recognized) are the contextual features of this best practice.

B. Challenging issues -

While designing and implementing this practice College faced certain challenging issues such as -

1. Computer - to provide computer facilities to run such an important MS-CIT computer literacy course.
2. Computer expert or tutor - to teach computer literacy not only requires computers but also requires the computer expert or computer teacher - tutor.
3. Learners - the learners from low-slum dwelling areas to address and counseling are challenging issues.

4. The practice -

A. The practice - the institute of systematic planning for this practice. The HEI has a junior college wing. The HEI took the permission of MS-CIT computer literacy from MKCL officials. The well-equipped laboratory with minimum 30 computers is a basic requirement to get affiliation from MKCL to run the course MS-CIT. The Junior College affiliation is the secondary requirement. Thus, the management took initiative to get affiliation and permission by MKCL to run the MS-CIT computer literacy course which is unique as it develops ICT learners with better skill in computer software as well as computer hardware.

- The institute has an IT tutor in junior college. The HEI made available its own computer laboratory for this practice. Thus, computers are made available with computer teachers who may work as knowledge researchers.
- The NSS students of college, the staff and parents to initiate a publisher, advertising course, which are provided 'free of cost' to those staying at low areas. In the 2022-23 academic year about 50 such students were selected by such a Pro team.
- The students belonging to different areas with different low economic and educational backgrounds is a considerable aspect while practicing the 'best' practice.
- The evening batches were decided with concern, with discussion with the learners, teachers and availability of computer laboratories.

B. Constraints / limitations -

1. Computer laboratory - Made available by HEI with prior consent of management.
2. Free of cost - the entire course is taught free of cost by the HEI. The tuition fee is not charged by the HEI. The MKCL MS-CIT charges for examination registration fee and examination fee. The only concern was this minimum amount as MKCL charges to be paid by students.
3. Computer teacher - HEI itself provided its own computer expert as computer teachers for this noble cause of education.

5. Evidences of success -

The list of students who appeared for computer literacy courses (at free of cost) is the evidence of success.

The photograph of students appearing for teaching, learning and examination is the evidence of success.

6. Problem encountered and resources required –

- A. Capital expenses - The governance - management of this college is generous. The overhead expenses, dues, honorariums, PC maintenance, allied expenses were borne by the management.
- B. Computer laboratories - HEI itself is having laboratories with well maintained, higher configuration PCs. It was made available to the students free of cost.
- C. Learners - HEI focused on the learners from the slum areas. They are having reservations, hesitations to open up with others. Many of them immediately said yes to participation. However, many also have reservations in mind. However, the NSS students played an active role in this practice, NSS students communicated to the learners, convincing them the importance of computer literacy and this course especially - MKCL's MS-CIT.
- D. Timing - HEI is a mighty college. The interested students are looking for evening timing. The college provided the required timing by adjusting the duties of teachers and the schedule of the computer laboratory.
- E. Resources - Skilled human resources is the one of the problems. However, as stated earlier the Junior College as well as school teachers in premises help out the process. They extended their time for social causes.

7. Notes –

- A. Slow beginning - The social cause is computer literacy course, at free of cost, even though it received a slow beginning. The slum dwellers are not interested in education. It is because their first priority is earning bread for daily survival. Struggle in the life of these people is a luxury. That too, computer literacy is a 5-star luxury. Those people initially were not interested because their priorities were different and they thought about expenses.
- B. Counseling - NSS students, teachers and local leaders help a lot for counseling of families. It helps to understand that the benefits or significance of computer cause and cost is nothing as tuition fees.

C. Help - The HEI has pure intention to provide a tuition fee free computer course which is one of the premier courses. HEI overcomes every problem by its own and by social helping elements.

Best practice 2

1. Title of the best practice - to excel, graduate in 'Tally' by having no emolument.

2. Objectives of the practice -

A. Intended outcomes -

- i) Tally is a highly in demand skill in the job market.
- ii) Tally permits business owners and their market to be on digital mode
- iii) In the accounting and finance industry, almost every business (Mini / small / big / bigger) uses Tally accounting software.
- iv) It is to manage their financial record.
- v) Tally is for the preparation of financial statements.
- vi) Intended outcome is possible due to the software in process of accounts management.
- vii) Students of commerce with skill of Tally means expert in the field of accounts, business management and finance management like commerce in specific.

B. Underlying principles of this practice -

- i) One of the principles of Tally software course is to perform all basic accounting, taxation, managing payrolls, managing profit, preparing balance sheet, loss statement, trial balance and cash flow report.

3. The context -

Commerce deals with the exchange of goods and services on a large scale. Any transaction that deals the money to purchase goods or services is a part of the commerce.

In commerce, exchange is an act of buying and selling. Indian Chamber of Commerce (ICC) is the leading and only National Chamber of Commerce that controls the commerce of India. To make it easy, there is one software known as Tally. It deals with the purchasing business - entrepreneurship, finance, accounting in a quicker and easier technological way.

Such Technology should be provided to the commerce student is the main context of this practice. The HEI provides a Tally course to each student free of cost is the main core of this practice.

The challenging issues for such best practice are to challenge the will desire of the practice. The management and staff of HEI consider that when there is a will there is a way. The management supported this practice for betterment.

The teaching staff decided themselves to work as best teachers for the students to teach Tally course free of cost. The H E I planned to use the daily 30 minutes for one semester for this course. The computer laboratory is available for every student for this learning process. The students were convinced to extend 30 minutes daily for the learning of course.

4. The Practice -

To teach a Tally course for each student needs planning. Each day 30 minutes before the academic schedule the 'time' schedule is decided by all stakeholders.

The course i.e. software is divided into theory, practical and practice. The schedule starts with an explanation of a theory chapter, immediately followed by practicals. It is further continued by 'practice'. Each chapter is practised on PC's minimum 2 to 3 days. Practice makes a man perfect.

One teacher is appointed as mentor-guide for one class. Which class is divided into batches. The batch which is doing theory, while other batches are dealing with practicals. The continuous process was operative.

Being limited to PCs and resources the course was provided to S.Y. commerce and T.Y. commerce students. The third year students are having semester V and VI as University examination year, especially the VI and last semester is hectic with submission and project and progression. Therefore, for T.Y. Commerce students the schedule was decided in the fifth term of 2022-23. While the S.Y. students were asked to continue the course in Semester IV of 2022-23. It solves the problem of computers, laboratory availability, teachers availability and resource management. F.Y. Commerce students were not provided with this course because in the next academic year the students will be available for the best cause of Tally course. The proper planning by proper resource management is the key to success of this course.

There were no problems, constraints , limitations forced by HEI for implementation of this practice because as already stated that when there is will there is a way !!!

6. Problems encountered and resources required -

The course i.e. software is divided into theory, practical and practice. The schedule starts with an explanation of a theory chapter, immediately followed by practicals. It is further continued by 'practice'. Each chapter is practised on PC's minimum 2 to 3 days. Practice makes a man perfect.

One teacher is appointed as mentor-guide for one class. Which class is divided into batches. The batch which is doing theory, while other batches are dealing with practicals. The continuous process was operative.

Being limited to PCs and resources the course was provided to S.Y. commerce and T.Y. commerce students. The third year students are having semester V and VI as University examination year, especially the VI and last semester is hectic with submission and project and progression. Therefore, for T.Y. Commerce students the schedule was decided in the fifth term of 2022-23. While the S.Y. students were asked to continue the course in Semester IV of 2022-23. It solves the problem of computers, laboratory availability, teachers availability and resource management. F.Y. Commerce students were not provided with this course because in the next academic year the students will be available for the best cause of Tally course. The proper planning by proper resource management is the key to success of this course.

There were no problems, constraints , limitations forced by HEI for implementation of this practice because as already stated that when there is will there is a way!
